In order that our readers might acquaint themselves with the ballot to be voted in the November 8th Presidential election, we are printing, elsewhere in this issue, an exact copy of the ballot on which they will cast their vote. Also on this ballot are five State amendments to be voted upon. In order that the voters might understand these amendments, and know and be able to decide for themselves whether to vote FOR or AGAINST these amendments, we have asked Mr. Walter James Phillips, local attorney and a former member of the State legislature, to give us a brief explanation of each of these amendments. He very willingly obliged us in this respect and we are publishing his explanations below just as he gave them to us.

The following is a brief resume and explanation of the Amendments to the Mississippi Constitution to be voted on in the general election.

House Concurrent Resolution 23. This is the first Amendment listed on the ballot and seeks to amend Section 264 of the Constitution of 1890. The present section of the Constitution contains a provision that a grand or petty juror shall be a qualified elector. This amendment seeks to remove from the Constitution the requirement that a person shall be a qualified elector, and proposes that the Legislature shall provide for all the qualifications of such jurors. The legislative purpose for this amendment seems to have been to correct a situation existing in counties where colored people are not qualified electors. The problem arose out of the Supreme Court decision to the effect that a colored person is deprived of his constitutional rights by being indicted or tried by a jury which does not include a colored person in the jury panel. This amendment would allow the selection of colored, or Negro, jurors on the panel without first having them qualify as electors.

House Concurrent Resolution No. 47. This seeks to amend Section 112 of the Mississippi Constitution. The important part of this amendment is that in the section presently in the Constitution it is provided that "property shall be assessed for taxes under general laws and by uniform rules according to ITS TRUE VALUE" and the proposed amendment providing that such assessment shall be made in "proportion to the value." The whole idea behind this amendment is to overcome a relative to the proposition that under the present section industries coming into the State were afraid that they would be assessed to the true value, or entire value, of their properties, and it was claimed by some that such fears tended to prevent some industries from locating in the state.

It is evidently the intention of the legislature to amend this section to have property taxed in proportion to its value.

House Concurrent Resolution No. 73 seeks to amend Section 115 of the Constitution, and seeks to limit the amount or the extent of bonded indebtedness which the state or its direct agencies may incur. The present section in the Constitution does not have any such limitation. This resolution is intended to place some limit or curtailment on the Legislature in issuing bonds on behalf of the state.

Senate Resolution No. 143. This seeks to amend Section 201 and 205 of the Mississippi Constitution. Under the present Section 201, it is stated that "it shall be the duty of the Legislature to provide a uniform system of free public schools by taxation or otherwise." The amendment seeks to remove the mandatory provision of establishing public schools and provides that the Legislature MAY in its discretion provide for such schools.

Section 205, as presently in the Constitution, states that "a public school shall be maintained in the county at least four months during each scholastic year." The amendment seeks to amend this section by providing that the Legislature MAY in its discretion provide for such public schools.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 147 seeks to add an additional qualification for a person to be entitled to register for the purpose of becoming a qualified elector. This qualification is in addition thereto to require such person to be of good moral character, and gives the Legislature the power to enforce this additional provision by means of appropriate legislation. This resolution, if passed, would require an additional qualification which would become more difficult for certain types of people to register as a voter.

The above law book contains the full text of the amendments and resolutions.

"We do not wish anyone to be trapped unfairly by radar," Shelton said. "We want to give fair warning, and on a trial basis, will go far as to name highways daily where radar will be operated."

Miss Forestry Commission Not Accepting Applications For Certain Seedlings

Area Forester Marion Parker of Hancock County announces that the Mississippi Forestry Commission is no longer accepting applications for the following tree seedlings: yellow poplar, Cherrybark oak, sycamore, scotch pine and sweet gum.

However, applications are still being accepted for loblolly, slash, longleaf, shortleaf and spruce pines; bald cypress, cottonwood, green ash and black locust. Those landowners in Hancock County interested in planting these species should contact Area Forester Parker or other county agricultural workers and make their applications as soon as possible.

Each land ownership is eligible to receive 1,000 free seedlings which will be delivered to a central point in the county where the land is located for a delivery charge of thirty-five cents. Orders above 1,000 will cost $4.50 per thousand plus delivery charges.

Addressing the group about current student government activities will be Doug Abraham of Greenville, president of the Associated Student Body, and Miss Eugenia Jones of Vicksburg, president of the Women's Student Government Association.

Alumni reports will be given by President Wilson, Medical Alumni President Dr. Robert Shands, Nurses' Alumni President Mrs. Carlynn Causey, and committee chairmen Thompson McClellan of West Point, George Payne Cosar of Charleston, John Clark Love of Kosciusko and Frank E. Everett of Vicksburg. Administrative reports will be given by Mr. Griffin and Alumni Secretary John Reed Holley.

The annual Alumni Board of Directors-University Development Committee dinner will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the auditorium of the Mississippi Center for Continuation Study. As in the past, there will be no formal program.

Heritage Tea Held At Methodist Fellowship Hall

Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church was the setting last Tuesday afternoon for a Heritage Tea, celebrating 20 years of existence to the Women's Society of Christian Service. Receiving at the door were Mrs. W. L. Chevis, president and Mrs. W. W. James, who was president when the local society was chartered in 1940. Mrs. Charles Breath and given attended the Miss. Conference Meeting in Natchez. Mrs. Herbert Finlay, Mrs. Leo Seal and Mrs. J. R. Corbin were hostesses for the occasion.

The tea table was covered with an imported cloth, of lace and embroidered linen and fruit punch was served from crystal punch bowls at either end. In the center was a large birthday cake iced in white holding 20 small candles. The cake was made by Mrs. Charles Breath and given for the occasion in memory of her mother, Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois.

who was one of the charter members.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Sr. called the roll of charter members, and 13 of the 22 were present. Messages were brought from several who could not attend. Members of the local society who were charter members in other churches in 1940 were Mrs. H. J. Thompson, Carrollton Ave., New Orleans; Mrs. T. P. Clapp, Gretna, La.; Mrs. E. E. Price, Saucier, Miss.; Mrs. Hazel Sibley and Mrs. Hanna.

Mrs. J. A. Evans paid tribute to the old member, Mrs. W. A. McDonald and presented her with an orchid corsage. Mrs. Evans stated that she had worked with Mrs. McDonald for more than fifty years in the woman's work of the church, and that she was an inspiration to all in her regular attendance both in church and the society. She said that Mrs. McDonald had never refused a call, but always went "the second mile."

Mrs. Rachel Norgress and Mrs. Ernest Strong were recognized as the two newest members. The names were called of the following members who had meant much in the earlier work of the society, but who had passed away: Mrs. E. S. Drake, Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois, Mrs. John Osinich, Mrs. Paul Delcuz, Miss Lucy Richardson and Mrs. Isabelle Joyner. Mrs. McDonald recalled that Rev. and Mrs. Andrew Boyles were serving the Main St. Methodist Church at the time of the Charter Meeting in 1940. They were followed that fall by Rev. and Mrs. Smith and they in turn by the Rev. A. M. Ellison. Rev. Ellison went into the Chaplain's service from Bay St. Louis in 1943 and he and Mrs. Ellison came back to this church in 1955 and resided here 5 years.

36 DEATHS FROM FIREARMS IN MISSISSIPPI LAST YEAR
Great losses from firearms accidents have been reported in Mississippi. In addition, many people sustain disabling injuries. Some of which resulted in permanent disability. Accidents due to firearms are perhaps the most responsible of all home accidents because the dangers of firearms are obvious and the preventive measures specific. Firearms accidents are almost evenly divided between those which happen to and around the home and those which occur while the user of the weapon is hunting outdoors.

Killed: Mrs. Horace Parr, Mrs. W. W. James and Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Sr.

"Strangers When We Meet" To Be At Star Theatre Sun. and Monday

The always absorbing theme of marital infidelity is explored with startling honesty and some explosive plain speaking in "Strangers When We Meet," which opens Sunday and Monday at the Star Theatre. This new Columbia picture in CinemaScope and Eastman Color stars Kirk Douglas and Kim Novak in roles which, according to Hollywood, are remarkably realistic and they give performances which possess an impact and an excitement that place the film high in the cinematic "must-see" category.

Ernie Kovacs and Barbara Rush also are starred in the new Richard Quine production, Kovacs as a philandering novelist who commissions architect Douglas to build him a "dream" house; Miss Rush as Douglas' wife who sees their marriage falling apart and unexpectedly learns why.

In "Strangers When We Meet" Douglas and Miss Novak are suburban neighbors who move from casual encounters—in a supermarket, at a bus stop—to secret, impassioned meetings. Their romance progresses in intensity until so do their problems. In time, a neighbor discovers their secret and they suddenly must face the fact that two families, two homes and Douglas' own future as an architect are headed for burning in their own private flame.
